

MY EXPERIMENTS WITH DIASPORIC WRITING*FACE TO FACE WITH MADHU RYE,
A GUJARATI WRITER

Madhu Rye is one of India's best known writer in Gujarati. He writes novels, short stories, plays and essays. He also writes film and TV serial scripts. Many of his writings are translated in English, Hindi, Bengali, Marathi and other Indian and European languages. Two of his plays, Tell me the name of a Flower and The Terrace have been translated in English and published by Seagull Publishing group in Calcutta. His plays are widely performed UK, USA, New Zealand and Australia. The Terrace was recently performed at the University of Penn by PennNaatak.

South Asia CenterDepartment of South Asia Studies*Date: April 14, Monday*Time: 12.15 pm to 02.15 pm*Venue: 816, Williams Hall